Dear Sri R. Subrahmanyam.

I would like to bring to your notice an interesting fact regarding 'abolition of affidavit'. It has come to my notice that some Universities and in particular Delhi University requires an affidavit to apply for scholarship for Non-Net Research Scholars.

2. You may be aware that the present Government, since 2014, has been constantly launching and campaigning for 'abolition of affidavit'. It is proposed that affidavits in all Universities may be substituted with self-certification so that the students are not inconvenienced.

3. I have lot of passion for abolition of affidavits and I would like to volunteer for abolition of the practice of submission of affidavits along with various documents in the Universities and substituting it with self-certification.

with regards

Yours sincerely

Sanjay Kothari
